

I drive approximately 12 hours a week just to work and back. I drive in an area that doesn't have any radio stations. The only thing that I have to depend on is my XM Radio. If Bush gives a speach, I hear it on XM. If the Sunday night baseball game is on, I hear it on XM. If I need a good laugh, I get that on my XM. I don't have anybody to ride with me, so my XM Radio is almost like my best friend when driving. I can't drive anywhere without it.
